And God said: Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear; and it was so. And God called the dry land Earth, and the gathering of waters he called sea; and God saw that it was good.

And Gott sah, dafs es gut war.